-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 3627

1. In view of the arguments in the Appeal Brief, prosecution is hereby reopened.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brooks, Jr et al (US 6,067,530) in view of Meeker (US 5,883,371).

Brooks discloses a method of providing a communication interface for coupling a point-of-sale system 38 to a cash management system 24 for providing communication between the P.O.S. system and the cash management system (fig. 2A, 39), providing software on the cash management system to permit operation of the cash management system over a communication link and providing software on the P.O.S. system to permit control of the cash management system over the internet (fig. 1, electronic drop safe), a method wherein providing software on the P.O.S. system to permit control of the cash management system over the communication link (fig. 2A, 39) and providing software on the P.O.S. system to permit control of the cash management system over the internet (fig. 1, electronic drop safe). Brooks does not disclose a cash management system including a cash dispensing function but Meeker discloses a cash management including a digital deposit dispensing safe (see abs., fig.1).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize the cash management including a digital deposit and dispensing safe as taught by Meeker into the system of Brooks because it would eliminate the need for the store manager having to manually verify each cashier and also enable the store manager to spend less time counting money and more time servicing customers.

As per claims 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20-23, Brooks discloses Brooks discloses a method of providing a communication interface for coupling a point-of-sale system 38 to a cash management system 24 for providing communication between the P.O.S. system and the cash management system (fig. 2A, 39), providing software on the cash management system to permit operation of the cash management system over a communication link and providing software on the P.O.S. system to permit control of the cash management system over the internet (fig. 1, electronic drop safe), a method wherein providing software on the P.O.S. system to permit control of the cash management system over the communication link (fig. 2A, 39) and providing software on the P.O.S. system to permit control of the cash management system over the internet (fig. 1, electronic drop safe), a cash machine system 28 over a communication link 39 including providing a graphical user interface 38. Brooks does not disclose a cash management system including a cash dispensing function but Meeker discloses a cash management including a digital deposit dispensing safe (see abs., fig.1).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize the cash management including a digital deposit and dispensing safe as taught by Meeker into the system of Brooks for the same reasons given in previous claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 10/24/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the cited references do not disclose a cash management system having cash depositing and cash dispensing functions. In response to applicant's arguments, a new reference (Meeker) is cited to disclose a cash machine having a digital deposit and dispensing safe as claimed. Also, Applicant's arguments about Brooks lacking any cash dispensing function are moot because of the new added reference that discloses such element. Claims 1-23 remain rejected.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- Inoue et al (US 2002/0030101 A1) disclose a point of sales terminal, point of sales system, and method for managing cash-on-hand information.
